To enroll in upper-division courses in the College of Communication, a student must have a University grade point average of at least 2.25 and a grade point average in all courses taken in the College of Communication of at least 2.0. All work undertaken at the University of Texas at Austin, whether passed or failed, is used in determining an overall grade point average. A student who registers for any upper-division course in the College of Communication without the required average will be dropped from the course. Any student enrolled in a College of Communication course who does not attend the first class meeting may be dropped from that course. All students within the College of Communication must have a grade of at least C in each course taken in the College of Communication that is counted toward the degree; if the course is offered on the pass/fail basis only, the student must have the symbol CR.

DEPARTMENTAL REQUIREMENTS

It is the student's responsibility to be aware before registering of course prerequisites and degree requirements published in the catalog. Changes to prerequisites and requirements published in the catalog are listed on information sheets available to students in the departmental office prior to registration. Students who fail to meet course prerequisites or to secure required consent prior to registering for a course may be dropped from that course.

ATTENDANCE. Any student enrolled in an advertising or public relations course who does not attend the first class meeting may be dropped from that course. Contact the departmental office prior to the first class meeting to report absences on that day due to emergencies only.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE. Prior to registering for any upper-division advertising or public relations course, students must have an overall grade point average of 2.25 and a 2.0 grade point average in all College of Communication courses.

CONSENT OF SUPERVISING PROFESSOR. Prior to registering for ADV 389, 698A, 698B, 398R, 399R, 699R, 999R, 399W, 699W, or 999W, graduate students must turn in a consent form to the graduate adviser with the written consent of the supervising professor. Contact the departmental office for consent application deadlines.

CONSENT OF INSTRUCTOR. Prior to registering for certain advertising or public relations courses, students must obtain consent from the instructor. The consent process occurs before the first registration period; contact the department for deadlines. Students who miss the consent process or who do not receive consent should attend the first class meeting and ask the instructor for permission to add at that time.

INDEPENDENT STUDY COURSES. Prior to registering for ADV 379H, 379J, 479J, or any other independent study course, students must contact the faculty member of their choice in the Department of Advertising to discuss registration in these independent study courses. Students and faculty members will work together to plan the individual course material. After an agreement is reached, students must follow the procedure stated in the permission form available in the department office.

ADVERTISING INTERNSHIP. Prior to registering for ADV 350, ADV 151, P R 321K, or P R 121L students must arrange their own internship. Application forms and detailed information are available at <http://advertising.utexas.edu/programs/internship.asp>. Students must also turn in a letter to the internship coordinator confirming employment on company letterhead by the end of the first class week (fourth class day in the summer session) and attend the mandatory meetings for interns during the semester (meeting dates and times are posted in the departmental office). Failure to meet these requirements will result in a failing grade for the course. Note: No meetings are held during the summer session.
